EPOS: Introducing its first wireless neckband headset for the modern-day workforce

March 2, 2020: The newly established audio brand, EPOS, today announces the launch of a co-branded EPOS | SENNHEISER product range, with the ADAPT 400 Series – introducing its first-ever wireless neckband headset – forming an integral part of the exciting new line-up. A lightweight yet high performance headset that matches the needs of the flexible, modern-day workforce, the ADAPT 400 Series supports EPOS’ mission to deliver premium audio experiences through high-quality technology and contemporary design.

Meeting the needs of the modern workforce

As the new premium audio brand on the market and part of the Demant Group building on 115 years’ experience in innovation and sound, EPOS launches a headset that supports its mission in delivering superior audio quality and performance in sleek, stylish form factors. Today’s modern professionals require versatile, lightweight headsets that can switch easily between devices both when working at home and in the office, and the ADAPT 400 Series meets the demands, all while demonstrating class-leading performance as a premium wireless neckband headset.

“The ADAPT 400 Series is a key component of this new product line-up. Inspired by and designed for the travelling professional who requires a headset with a lightweight, highly portable form factor, the ADAPT 400 Series is the perfect match. However, the headset isn’t solely designed for convenience, it also provides a perfect combination of style, connectivity and clear audio which will empower the wearer, whatever their task.”

PRESS RELEASE

The ADAPT 400 Series boasts a number of features, which match the demands of the always-connected modern worker. As the discreet alternative for busy professionals who don't necessarily want a full over-the-ear headset, the ADAPT 400 Series enhances concentration and productivity at all times thanks to an advanced four microphone Active Noise Cancellation (ANC) system. Additionally, multi-point connectivity enables hassle-free device compatibility, as users can pair two Bluetooth® devices simultaneously for even greater flexibility. Depending on the user's need and preference, the ADAPT 400 Series comes in two versions; the UC optimized ADAPT 460, and the ADAPT 460T that is undergoing certification for Microsoft Teams for an intuitive and streamlined experience – activation couldn't be easier, as users can launch the app instantly via a dedicated button on the headset.

Crafted to perfection

Designed to be highly durable without compromising on its premium look and feel, the ADAPT 400 Series is ideal for the on-the-go professional looking for a single headset to satisfy all needs, whether working at home or out and about, which marries superior audio performance with impeccable style. With 14 hours' talk time, the headset boasts an ultra-lightweight construction, meaning it's still comfortable even at the end of a busy day. With its microphones placed in the neckband itself, the ADAPT 400 Series offers a versatile choice of single or double-sided usage of the earbuds, giving professionals multiple fitting options for excellent seal throughout the day. Additionally, with subtle vibrations for incoming calls and other notifications, professionals can ensure they never miss a call and can stay on top of their workload, no matter where they are.

About EPOS

EPOS is an audio and video solution company developing and selling devices for business professionals and the gaming community. Based on leading and advanced technologies, the Danish founded company delivers high-end audio and video solutions with design, technology and performance as paramount parameters.

The establishment of EPOS is based on the decision to let the business segments of the joint venture – known as Sennheiser Communications – between Sennheiser Electronic GmbH & Co. KG and Demant A/S evolve in different set-ups. Alongside the introduction of a new own-branded portfolio, EPOS continues to sell the current Sennheiser Communications portfolio co-branded as EPOS | SENNHEISER.

EPOS is part of the Demant Group – a world-leading audio and hearing technology group. As such, it builds on more than 115 years of experience of working with innovation and sound. With headquarters in Copenhagen, Denmark, EPOS operates in a global market with offices and partners in more than 30 countries.
